

Little Gem Magnolia

This lush-looking evergreen tree grows a classic oval-shaped canopy and is well known for its large and fragrant bowl-shaped creamy white flowers.

Flowering from an early age, usually from summer to autumn, this highly-decorative tree has glossy deep green leaves with a furry brown underside. This hardy variety works beautifully as a street tree and is spectacular when planted in a row.

The Little Gem's compact form and hardy nature is well suited to streets with overhead power lines and narrow nature strips providing good sized trees and shade in confined spaces.

You can see examples in Wigram Street, Parramatta.

a	Botanic name	Magnolia grandiflora 'Little Gem'
↑↓	Typical height	4-6m
↔	Typical width	3m
	Leaf	Glossy dark-green wavy edged leaves with a soft, velvety brown underside
	Bark	Smooth
	Flowers	Creamy white, fragrant
	Fruit Pod	Small rose coloured