PHIVE launch

CITY OF PARRAMATTA

Lord Mayor's Message

Welcome to our Winter edition of Parramatta Pulse. As the cool weather sets in, Parramatta is heating up with lots of exciting things to do this season.

PHIVE launch

I can't wait for the community to experience Phive and explore its amazing new city branch library, community meeting rooms, exhibition and function spaces, and Council Chambers. Phive is an iconic building that will draw visitors from all over Sydney, Australia and the world.

Aquatic and Leisure Centre

I am very excited to see our new Aquatic Centre take shape over the past few months. Scheduled to open in 2023, it will be a great place to catch up with family and friends offering a range of recreational and wellbeing facilities.

Warami events in our City

I welcome family and friends to celebrate First Nations culture and commemorate significant dates for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and the Dharug community. Burrumatta NAIDOC will be a great event with plenty to enjoy including performances, children's workshops, market stalls and more.

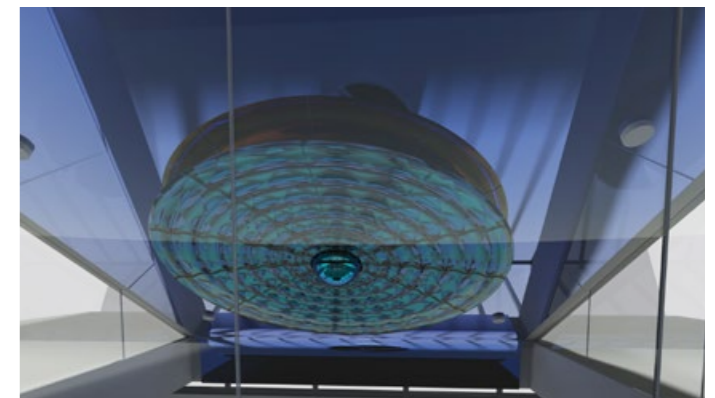

Citizenship Ceremonies

In May, I had the pleasure of hosting 2,400 people to receive their Australian Citizenship. It has never been a more important time to become an Australian Citizen and to call this City home. I welcome all our new Australian citizens to the Parramatta community.

Inspiring artwork takes centre stage

Not only does PHIVE boast a modern design and bold facade by an internationally acclaimed French architect, it will also showcase three unique artworks by artists with strong links to our City. Commissioned by City of Parramatta Council, these pieces are inspired by the diversity in our local environment and community. They highlight the identity and creativity of people who call Parramatta home.

Ripple Effect by Pakistani-Australian artist Abdullah M.I. Syed is a giant reflective sculpture that draws inspiration from the Parramatta River. Visitors to PHIVE will be greeted in the main foyer by the suspended mirror and glass sculpture. Light moves through the artwork and creates a kaleidoscope of complex patterns, colours and reflections. The 'ripple effect' of the artwork describes the movement created by a water droplet falling into a river.

Council has also commissioned two moving image works that will appear on a large 8-metre wide smart screen on the ground floor of PHIVE. Artist Kristone Capistrano's piece, 101 Graham Street, will share life stories of local migrant families with an emphasis on humanity, warmth and resilience. In addition, Kalanjay Dhir's Habit will feature approximately 50 animated plant-inspired avatars programmed to reflect the environment and seasonal shifts.

PHIVE will be more than a community hub – it will celebrate our thriving arts and cultural identity and place creativity on centre stage.

Stage 1 Parramatta Light Rail update

A Bridge Naming Consultation Panel assessed over 500 community suggestions in line with naming guidelines and conventions. An official naming ceremony will be held later this year.

Upgrades in your area

Rosehill

Rydalmere Park Masterplan Stage 2

Rydalmere Park Masterplan Stage 2 is under construction and is due for completion in September 2022. The upgrade will provide two natural turf football fields with drainage and irrigation, upgraded lighting, seating, picnic tables, three-lane cricket practice nets, a new cricket pitch, accessible paths, bubblers and bins, and improvements to the South Street and Park Road car parks.

Council harvested seeds from the original trees along South Street Rydalmere in 2020 when construction began, and these will be planted at the northern end of Rydalmere Park, along Victoria Road.

Council is also improving the water efficiency of Rydalmere Park through the installation of a 520-kilolitre stormwater reuse system and Water Sensitive Urban Designed (WSUD) rain gardens in the South Street car park.

08 Wentworth Point's Place Plan

Council has been busy engaging with the Wentworth Point community to establish an exciting vision for the area and to set objectives and actions to ensure it is a liveable, sustainable and thriving community into the future. On Thursday 10 March, Council hosted a community webinar to explain the purpose of a Place Plan is and how it can be used to produce better outcomes for Wentworth Point.

The webinar was attended by a number of government agencies who presented progress updates on their projects, including Council (Hill Road Masterplan), Landcom (Peninsula Park), Transport for NSW (Parramatta Light Rail), the Department of Education (the new high school), and Sydney Olympic Park (SOPA vision).

Council will continue running community engagement activities to further inform the Place Plan.

Become a tree champion

As part of the NSW Government's Greening Our City program, City of Parramatta will be planting more than 2,600 new trees along our streets between April and July 2022. It's all part our effort to bring down the temperature in our neighbourhoods, improve air quality, and making our streets and parks healthier and happier places for everyone to enjoy.

How can you help? Once the new trees are planted, they will be cared for by Council for 12 months while they establish. We're looking for tree champions who can let us know if a tree in their neighbourhood needs some extra attention.

We'll also ask our tree champions to do a formal check-in of the trees allocated to them every three months and send us a picture of each tree.

When you send in your first tree report, we'll send you a $50 gift card as a thank you for helping us to keep our trees growing strong.

To find out more, visit: cityofparramatta.co/tree-champion

FloodSmart Parramatta expands

Heavy rain and flooding earlier this year highlighted the importance of making sure that everyone stays safe. The award-winning FloodSmart Parramatta service was developed by the City of Parramatta and partners, including NSW SES, the Bureau of Meteorology and Sydney Water to give individuals, communities and business owners real-time flood alerts and information on how to prepare for flooding.

We're proud to announce that FloodSmart has now expanded to protect more members of our community. Across the Parramatta area, FloodSmart now monitors 10 areas at risk of flooding, with new warning areas established for Clay Cliff Creek, Vineyards Creek, and Subiaco and Ponds Creek.

Find out if your home, workplace, or school is at risk of flooding, and sign up to receive early warnings via text, email or voice message at cityofparramatta.co/floodwarning [Right] Flooding can happen quickly. Have you signed up to FloodSmart Parramatta to receive free flood warnings?

Wild at heart

Our native wildlife has moved in and they're loving their new homes!

Council began a nest box program in 2007 that aims to provide an additional resource for hollow-using native wildlife in a landscape scarce of tree hollows. Recent monitoring of 520 nest boxes revealed that 20 per cent of the boxes showed signs of occupation from a wide range of wild creatures, including parrots, possums and bats.

While the monitoring effort provides only a small glimpse into the use of boxes, it has shown that they assist in providing nesting and denning habitat for several hollow-using wildlife and help to sustain our hollow-using fauna community.

You can also help by installing a nest box or two in your garden and provide additional refuge to our local wildlife.

To find out more on Council's artificial hollow program, visit: cityofparramatta.nsw.gov.au/nestboxes

We're making our City greener

City of Parramatta's electricity supply will soon be 100 per cent powered by renewable energy following a landmark deal with ZEN Energy.

Led by Southern Sydney Regional Organisation of Councils (SSROC) and signed by 25 councils, the agreement helps Parramatta achieve another important goal in our Environmental Sustainability Strategy. Worth approximately $180 million, the renewable electricity supply agreement begins in July 2022 and will deliver more than 214 gigawatt hours of electricity per year.

Parramatta's renewable energy will be sourced from large solar farms at Moree, Hillston and Nevertire in NSW, and will power council facilities and streetlights. Council will soon achieve its goal of reducing carbon emissions and becoming carbon neutral.
