Reviewable decisions

Access applicants

You can ask for a review of any of the following decisions (or a combination) under section 80 of the GIPA Act:

- a decision that an application is not a valid access application
- a decision to transfer an access application to another agency, as an agency-initiated transfer
- a decision to refuse to deal with an access application (including a decision that is deemed to have been made because the City of Parramatta did not decide your application on time)
- a decision to provide access or to refuse to provide access to information
- decision that government information is not held by the City of Parramatta
- a decision that information applied for is already available to you
- a decision to refuse to confirm or deny that information is held by the City of Parramatta
- a decision to defer the provision of access to information
- a decision to provide access to information in a particular way (or a decision not to provide access in the way requested by you)
- a decision to impose a processing charge or to require an advance deposit
- a decision to refuse a reduction in a processing charge
- a decision to refuse to deal further with your access application because you failed to pay an advance deposit within the time required for payment
- a decision to include information in the City of Parramatta's disclosure log despite your objections (or a decision that you were not entitled to object).

Third parties

If you are not the access applicant, but instead a third party who was consulted in respect of a GIPA application, you can ask for a review of a decision to provide access to information contrary to your objections (section 80(d) of the GIPA Act).

As a third party, you can also ask for a review of a decision to include information in the City of Parramatta's disclosure log despite your objections (section 80(m) of the GIPA Act).
