FOOD & DRINK

DELICIOUS TREATS THAT GIVE BACK

Summerland Farm

Buy some delicious treats from a Farm with Heart. Purchase jams and relishes, coffee, macadamias or, if you can't decide, grab one of their gorgeous hampers. Your purchase will support an organisation providing employment for people with a disability.

Sample Coffee

From little things

Sample Coffee

This small business wants you to appreciate the different (and exceptional) coffee flavours as you would with wine, and are committed to building social and environmental outcomes along with financial success. Buy fancy coffee, coffee equipment or even a coffee subscription for your favourite coffee addict.

Chocolate on Purpose

Share culture through chocolate. Using Australian bushfoods, this Indigenous-owned business on Wiradyuri Country (NSW Central Tablelands) offers such flavours as white chocolate and Illawarra plum, and milk chocolate with macadamias and quandong. Check out their (meat free) chocolate salami!

Natif

Natif offers premium native foods, ethically and sustainably harvested in Australia. Explore teas, herbs, spices, chocolates, and dried fruits made from quality native ingredients. Gift an affordable native food box or their new Davidson Plum Pink Salt, perfect for adding vibrant, tangy flavour to any dish!

Old Bones

Old Bones is a veteran-owned Sydney-based small-producer of hot sauces employing Disability Services Australia for their labelling. With a delicious range that includes smoked chilli churri, buffalo sauce and jalapeno and garlic beef jerky, the exceptional flavours will impress!

Aussie Biscuits

Make someone's day with the gift of bikkies! Try Ginger Crunch, Short Bread or Classic Anzac. Not only are they delicious, Aussie Biscuits help change lives by providing employment for people with disabilities in Forbes (NSW).

FOOD & DRINK

DELICIOUS TREATS THAT GIVE BACK

Nutjob

Nutjob Bakery

Sustainable desserts? Yes! Nutjob creates uniquely handcrafted cakes made with organic/sustainably farmed produce and decorated with pesticide free flowers or native wild greenery. They focus on seasonal produce, allowing the natural flavours to shine. With no refined sugar, butters or oils in the recipes, you can go back for seconds without the guilt!

STREAT

STREAT

Try STREAT's delicious handmade, traditional jams and preserves or specialty coffee beans, or gift someone a photo journal cookbook. Every purchase from STREAT directly supports the training and job opportunities for marginalised young people.

The Good Good

The Good Good is a social enterprise employing workers with disabilities and producing organic and premium blend teas in loose leaf, pyramid and plastic-free teabags. 50% of profits are donated to programs that help disadvantaged kids in Australia get better access to education.

SOBAH

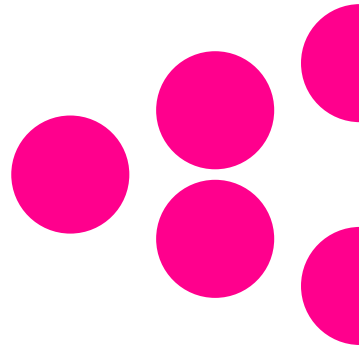

Sobah

Aboriginal owned and led, Sobah makes non-alcoholic craft beer brewed with Aussie bush tucker, to give a better choice to non-drinkers. They're breaking down the stigma of socialising sober and stereotypes about First Nations people – and your loved ones will be in love with new flavours like Davidson Plum GF Ale.

Chocolate Artisan

Chocolate Artisan partners with South Pacific Cacao to support farming communities in the Solomon Islands by making artisan chocolate in Sydney's Inner West from their beans. Impress your loved one with novelty fine chocolates such as – a high-heeled shoe, golf balls, designer handbag or a fully-edible golden ticket for the Willy Wonka fans.

SUPPORT A CHARITY

GIVE A GIFT WHERE IT'S REALLY NEEDED

Bush Heritage Australia

Give a Bush Gift Card to support the conservation of magnificent Australian landscapes and irreplaceable native species.

Oxfam Unwrapped

A massive range of cheesy gifts for people who already have everything they need. "This gift might be crappy" says the card with a gift of a faecal sludge plant.

Rainforest Rescue

Rainforest Rescue's gift cards include a cassowary care package, tree planting in the rainforest and buying back the rainforest to protect it forever (every $10 protects 2-square metres).

Opportunity

International Australia

Each Gift of Opportunity empowers families to pave their pathway out of poverty. From small loans for women to start businesses, to mobile health clinics providing essential services and education, each gift transforms lives. Every purchase includes a card for the recipient, explaining the impact you've made together.

Muslim Aid

With Muslim Aid you can give personal or business Zakah, pay Fedyah or cleanse your income received from interest. You can choose how the money is spent, such as for sustainable development, orphan aid, health and education.

Tear Australia

This is where the concept of giving to people who need it most actually started. Tear Australia is a Christian group helping the world's poor. Gifts are priced from $5 (for chickens) to $5,000 (to help a community transform their village). There are even some mini-cardboard constructions instead of cards for crafty recipients.

Children's Medical Research Institute

Selling Jeans for Genes branded apparel, as well as lab coats and science kits for the budding child scientist. Money goes to research into children's genetic diseases.

The Smith Family

Give a gift that puts a Christmas present under the tree for a disadvantaged child who might otherwise go without. You can also support disadvantaged kids' literacy and numeracy, provide a mentor for an Indigenous child, and lots more.

WWF

Help conserve endangered animals such as tigers, orang-utans and pygmy elephants by "adopting" an animal through WWF, and your loved one will receive an adoption certificate, sticker, factbook and other goodies, including optional soft toy.

Unicef

Buy a range of gifts helping with education, clean water, nutrition, maternal health and more. For just $47 you can provide a community with 9,000 water purification tablets or for $271 you can give a 'school in a box' - a portable way to ensure children continue to learn during times of crisis and conflict, or in the hardest to reach areas.

Care Australia

A great range, from $10 drought resistant seeds to $75 to stock a medical clinic. Care Australia is a non-government and non-religious charity.

Leprosy Mission

This Christian charity seeks to defeat leprosy and transform lives. They raise money selling "gifts of love" such as goats, school kits and toilets for people who need them, as well as fashion, homewares, stationery and more for someone who prefers something to unwrap.

GREETING CARDS

SEND A MESSAGE AND HELP OTHERS

Noteworthy CARDS

Noteworthy Cards
